*2010 Productivity Commission – 2008 funding
1 November, 2010.

But the latest available figures* show:

- Victorian government schools received $6.142 billion from the Victorian and Australian governments
- Non-government schools received only $1.832 billion
- Victorian government schools received $11,442 per student total government funding – non-government schools received $6,090 per student
- Non-government schools educate 36% of Victorian school children but receive only 23% of total government funding.

All schools need more government funding...

...and it needs to be fairly distributed
